Deceased was born June 14, (note the year looks like 1783, but if she had been 87 years old, it should be 1770) at Hartford, Ct. She was married at an early age in the state of New York but moved with her husband in the fall of 1817 to Indiana. From there, they moved to the state of Illinois, in different parts of which they resided for quite a number of years. They removed to Green County but soon returned to Illinois where they resided until about four years ago when they removed to this county where they have resided until the Angel of Death has called the wife from the shores of time. She was the mother of eleven children, all of whom are living except one. She had belonged to a branch of the church for about 28 years before her death. The last hours of her life were passed somewhat unhappily on account of an affliction of the mind which ended a short time before her death in entire insanity. But the spirit has departed and

God has called her home to paradise where reason never grows dim and pain is felt no more.

In private life he was much beloved.

July 15, 1857

Married, in Newark on the 5th ult., by Rev. John A. Poole, D - - ster Bl - - - mer to Hannah Peabody, both of the town of Newark.

Departed this life at the residence of his parents in the township of Jefferson on July 7, John Bridges, son of M. and Nancy Bridges, aged one years, three months and eight days.

The following article ran in the Wisconsin: "A horrible murder was committed at Exeter in Green County, the particulars are that a Mr. Foster murdered his mother-in-law Mrs. Root and attempted to murder his father-in-law to get possession of their property. He poisoned the former and shot the latter." The Wisconsin is slightly mistaken. The murder was committed in Mt. Pleasant. Foster was the murdered man and the father-in-law was the murderer. The belief on the part of the father-in-law is that his wife met her death by poison and his own life was threatened by the same manner.
